

REMARKS

Lactose are tangent, for example, on page 8, line 18. N-methyl and N-formyl derivatives are taught, for example, on page 8, line 24. A peptide is taught on page 9, lines 1-4. Multivalency is taught, for example, on page 13, line 4. The immune responses to an antigen of interest are taught on page 12, lines 21-23. The Ts inhibitor is taught on page 15, lines 20-22. Adjuvants are taught on page 15, last full paragraph.

Hence, no issue of new matter arises with the new claims.

Applicant elects the species, carbohydrate antigen mimetic, for preliminary examination.

Favorable consideration and early indication of allowance are solicited earnestly.

The Commissioner hereby is authorized to charge Deposit Account No. 02-1818 for any fees required by the instant Preliminary Amendment.

Respectfully submitted,
